APPLICATION FOR CHRISTIAN MARRIAGE

(For couples getting married by a priest from St George's)

Congratulations on your engagement. We would like to help you on your journey towards your marriage and trust that the following directions will be helpful.

T's and C's are listed below. Please read these conditions carefully and sign this document indicating your compliance:

WHO CAN BE MARRIED IN THIS CHURCH?

1. Please note that the clergy of the Anglican Church are only allowed to marry in churches and cannot accept requests to marry in any other place (gardens, reception or secular wedding venues). Thus, this application only applies to your intention to get married in a church (it need not necessarily be an Anglican church).
2. At least one partner must be baptised (in any Christian church) and provide evidence of his/her baptism.
3. Divorcees need the Bishop's permission to get re-married. This process may take some time, so please ensure that you have at least 6 months available between the time of submitting this application and your proposed marriage date.

WHAT IS THE PROCEDURE FROM HERE ONWARDS?

1. Complete and submit this form to the Parish Office.
2. Contact the priest who you have asked to marry you to make an appointment for an interview (These appointments only take place during morning office hours). Please do not ask the priest to meet you at your convenience after office hours or on weekends.
3. Should you be granted permission to get married at St George's, the date and time of your wedding will then be secured in the Church diary.
4. Please note that if an events company or wedding planner is organising your wedding, they must also read and sign this form. Any breach of the conditions listed below may result in the cancellation of your wedding and additional costs being levied against you. Please also note that the clergy from St George's will not communicate or negotiate with weddings planners. We will speak only to you as a couple and you are liable for any breach of these conditions committed by your wedding planner.

5. You will need to book dates and times to attend a Marriage Preparation course and information will be given to you by the priest during your initial interview.
6. Should you want to make use of the Church Organ, you will need to contact the Church Organist to decide on processions, hymns, and any other musical requests.
7. You will need to contact our St George's florist who will advise you regarding your floral preferences. The two main bouquets behind the High Altar may only be done by our designated Church florists – you may not do these yourself. Furthermore, as part of the agreement, you donate these bouquets to the church for our use on the Sunday services following your wedding. Take note that under no circumstances may the two bouquets behind the High Altar be removed. Additional flower arrangements may be added either by our florist or by your own florist, but all these must be removed immediately after your wedding. Please note that you may not bring any of your own floral arrangements into the church without consulting our florists first.
8. You will need to choose a reading or readings to be used at the service (not necessarily all from the Bible).
9. You are responsible for your service sheets/brochures and will need to arrange to have them printed. Your priest or minister will negotiate the structure and content of your marriage service with you and provide you with a list of the necessary headings for your brochure.
10. You will need to book a rehearsal date with your priest.
11. You will need to pay the full amount due for all costs associated with your wedding one month before your wedding. If you are late for your wedding (more than 15 minutes) additional costs will be levied to pay the organist, bell-ringers, choir, and security guards as per your booking.
12. We allow photographers and videographers into the wedding service. Free standing lights are not permitted, but camera flash may be used. Please inform your photographers to consult the priest before the service for rules regarding their conduct.
13. Paper confetti, seeds, rice or any other kind of material is not allowed on church property. You may only use fresh flower petals as confetti and only outside of the church. No petals may be sprinkled in the church on the carpets or floors.
14. No furniture or fittings of any kind in the church may be replaced or moved.
15. No Prayer Books, Bibles, or hymnals may be moved in the church.
16. No notices, posters, brochures or pamphlets, not matter where they are situated, may be moved or removed from the church.
17. The use of any additional candles in the church must be safety checked and protective bases must be placed under candles (even if they are supposedly dripless).
18. No nails, pins, tacks, tape or Prestik may be stuck to any furniture or walls in the church (Posies for the pews along the isle may be hung over the ends of the pews).
19. The High Altar is reserved for the sacraments. It is therefore not a decorative table and no decorations or flower arrangements may be put on the High Altar. A single nuptial candle may be placed in the centre of the altar if a candle lighting ceremony forms part of the wedding service.
20. St George's does not host wedding receptions and no loud music may be played in the church, hall or garden. You may serve drinks in the garden or hall after your wedding, but this should not last for more than one hour and an additional charge is due for such occasions. In such instances, it is your responsibility to have the premises cleaned and tidied before 17h30.
21. Please understand that St George's is a Heritage Site and that much of its interior furnishings and adornments are antique. It is expected that the property, and all its fittings and furnishing will be treated with utmost care and respect. Any abuse, neglect, or damage to St George's property will be billed to you and may result in legal action being taken against you. Please also remember that you are liable for any damage caused to the property by your wedding planner.

VERY IMPORTANT

DOCUMENTS THAT MUST BE PROVIDED

PLEASE make sure that you bring all the required and relevant documents as listed below to the interview with the priest.

- a) Copies of your ID documents (Your priest/minister will certify all copies of documents for you).
- b) Three passport/ID photographs each.
- c) Your fingerprints will be taken shortly before the marriage – usually at the rehearsal a day or two before your wedding.
- d) Copies of the ID documents of your two chosen witnesses (who may not be your immediate family members or family members with the same surname as yours).
- e) Telephone numbers of your two chosen witnesses.
- f) Copies of your baptismal or confirmation certificates (from one partner is sufficient)
- g) If you are divorced, a copy of your original decree of divorce.
- h) If you are widowed, a copy of your former spouse's death certificate.
- i) A copy of the front page (covering letter) of your Ante-Nuptial contract.
- j) In the case of foreign nationals:
 - i) Completion of a BI 31E form (which your priest/minister will provide for you)
 - ii) Copy of your visa/residence permit with entry stamps.
 - iii) Copy of your passport.
 - iv) A letter of 'No Impediment' from your home country is sometimes required by the Department of Home Affairs (this serves to certify that you are not married, divorced, or widowed in your home country without legal notification in the RSA. Please note that the USA and UK do not provide these letters. In this case you need to consult the Department of Home Affairs in SA. A sworn affidavit may be accepted in this case).
 - v) You will need to attend an interview at the department of Home Affairs who will certify that your marriage is not a marriage of convenience for the purpose of gaining South African citizenship.

I have read and understand all the above requirements regarding legal documents;

Signed: Bride

Signed: Groom
